1 Introduction

Enjoy six days of walking in the spectacular Ordesa and Monte Perdido National Park and the Posets-Maladeta Natural Park, located in the heart of the Pyrenean mountain range.

A great getaway to enjoy some of the most emblematic places of the Pyrenees where, apart from walking, you can enjoy the culture and gastronomy of the country.

Without a doubt, Ordesa National Park is a natural jewel, with a geomorphology created by the erosive glacial action, where you can find huge vertical walls, beech forests, waterfalls and a varied fauna.

2 Destination

The Ordesa and Monte Perdido National Park is located in the Huesca Pyrenees, Aragon (Spain). It occupies the municipalities of Bielsa, Fanlo, Puértolas, Tella-Sin, Torla and Broto and it receives over 600.000 visitors per year.

The Park covers 15.608 hectares and it has a peripheral protection zone of 19.679 hectares. The altitude ranges from 700 m. in Vellós River to 3.355 m. in the Monte Perdido summit.

Brecha de Rolando is a narrow col of 40 m wide and 100 m high, located at 2.804 meters high in the Monte Perdido massif. Legend has it that this gap was created by Rolando, Charlemagne's nephew, while he was trying to destroy his sword hitting it against the rock after the battle of Roncesvalles.

Monte Perdido is the highest limestone massif in Europe with a summit of 3.355 meters high.

The Posets-Maladeta Natural Park is located in the Aragon Pyrenees, in the long axis of the Pyrenees. Here is where we find the highest concentration of peaks over 3,000 meters. Highlights include the Aneto (3.404 m) the highest mountain in the Pyrenees. We should also mention the Posets (3.369 m) and Perdiguero (3.221 m).

Valleys like Benasque, Chistau and Barrabés, offer infinite possibilities of activities for all tastes and seasons of the year such as trekking, mountain skiing, mountaineering and climbing.

In addition to the meadows, the forests of red and black pine trees predominate in the landscape, which sometimes mix with the fir tree. It is also possible to find holm oaks and some patches of deciduous mixed forests. In terms of fauna, it is possible to find grouse, martens, Tengmalm owls, snow ptarmigan, marmot or chamois among many other animal species.

One of the most famous routes to know the Valley of Ordesa. A route located at the bottom of the glacial valley. It goes all the time next to the Arazas River, which will surprise us with five waterfalls in its route: Arripas, Estrecho, La Cueva, Sodaso Steps and the Cola de Caballo.

This easy path is surrounded by the famous "forest of beech trees", that disappear close to the Cirque of Soaso, where we will see the Monte Perdido 3.355m, Añisclo Peak 3.254m and Punta las Olas 3.002m.

We will not see Cola de Caballo (Horse tail) until we reach the bottom of the cirque, that will surprise us with its almost 100m fall.

The return will be by the same itinerary of ascent. Depending on the weather conditions we will do a circular tour in the lower part of the valley.

Distance 17 km. Ascent +520 m - 520 m. Time: 6-7 hours.

Day 3. Mondotó Peak (1.967m) and La Estiba (2.005m). Ordesa

We will continue towards the North, to the Estiba peak, that will give us a better panorama on the high summits of Ordesa.

We will complete the circular hiking along the edge of the Pardina canyon, famous for its hanging strips, which flows into the main canyon: Añisclo.

We may be lucky enough to spot the lammergeyer, easy to locate in this area, as well as chamois, marmot, griffon vulture...

Meanwhile, we will enjoy a great variety of trees, such as yew, black pine, spruce, pine roya, shrubs such as boxwood, and a large variety of flora.

Once in Bujaruelo, and with almost 1000m of ascent done, we will see the descent to Gavarnie and its magnificent circus with its Grand Cascade.

We will ascend the Entrepueños Peak (2.480m) where we will have a better view of the north faces of Taillón and Gabietos.

From here we can admire the greatness of the Massif of Maladetas with glacier valleys that give way to the high peaks.
